Looking for a compressed natural gas (CNG) fueling station in your area? Taking a trip and need to map out the locations of stations that offer propane (LPG)? Two Web-based tools—the Station Locator and the Route Mapper—can pin point and direct you to alternative fueling stations across the country... all with a few clicks. Both tools feature public and private refueling sites that offer LPG, E85, electricity, biodiesel, hydrogen, CNG, and liquefied natural gas, so finding every type of alternative fuel available is easy.

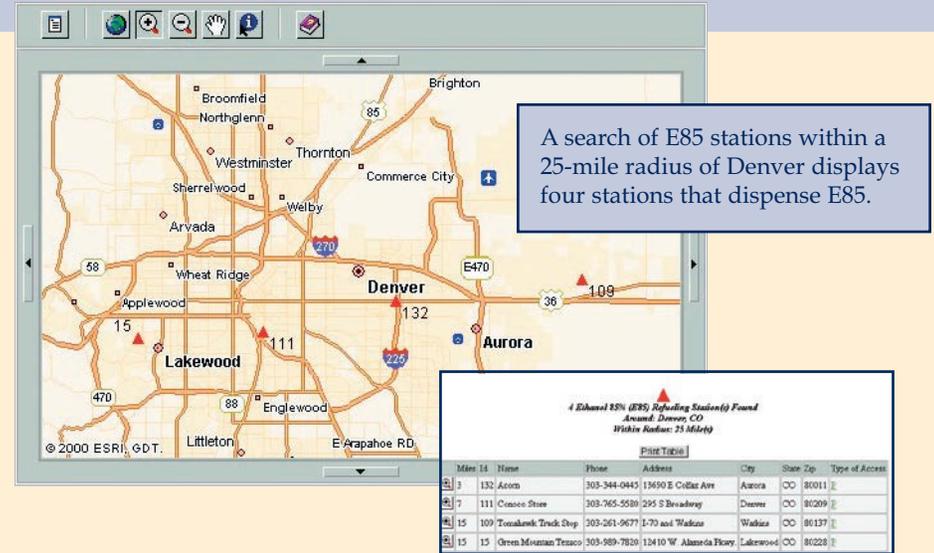

Alternative Fuel Station Locator

Choose a city and state, the type of fuel you're seeking, and the mile radius you're willing to travel. After a quick search of alternative fueling sites across the country, the Station Locator displays a map with details about each station that fits your search.

Site Features

- Select the Zoom-In button  in the table to bring up a street map that shows the station's location.
- Click on the letter in the table's Type of Access column to determine whether a station is public, private, or has any access limitations.
- Obtain details—such as location, hours, and payment options—about each station on the map by choosing the Identify button  and clicking on a station icon .
- Click on the Print Table button Print Table for a list of directions that fits on one page.

A search of E85 stations within a 25-mile radius of Denver displays four stations that dispense E85.

Alternative Fuel Route Mapper

<http://afdcmap.nrel.gov/locator/routepane.asp>

The Route Mapper helps you find alternative fueling stations along your entire route. Enter your starting point and destination—by address or city and state—and this helpful tool creates a map and detailed directions to the fueling stations along that route. It also offers several convenient options for displaying and printing the information.

Site Features

- Customize your map and driving directions to include stations of your choice by selecting the Add Station button  and clicking on the icons  of the stations where you would like to stop.
- Obtain small, detailed maps for each step of the driving directions by choosing the print option Text with Full Route and Segments.
- Convert the map and driving instructions back to their original appearances by clicking the Show All Stops button Show All Stops.
- Download the map to your handheld computer by pressing the Palm button .
